Preamble

This sponsorship agreement (“AGREEMENT”) is a legal agreement between You, the “SPONSOR” (or “CLIENT”, regarding support services), and Applied Informatics Software Engineering GmbH (“APPLIED INFORMATICS”), the original developer and current maintainer of the POCO C++ Libraries (the “SOFTWARE”) project (the “PROJECT”).

The POCO C++ Libraries (POCO stands for PORTable COmponents) are open source C++ class libraries that simplify and accelerate the development of network-centric, portable applications in C++. The libraries are provided by APPLIED INFORMATICS free of charge, under the Boost Software License (reproduced in Attachment A), an Open Source license.

Under this agreement, SPONSOR agrees to fund the ongoing and future development of the POCO C++ Libraries, and APPLIED INFORMATICS agrees to use the funds received from SPONSOR exclusively for software development activities within the POCO C++ Libraries project, as well as related activities, such as maintaining source code repositories, project websites, support forums and defect tracking databases. APPLIED INFORMATICS will also provide SPONSOR with commercial-level developer support for SOFTWARE under this AGREEMENT.

1 Sponsorship Agreement

1.1 Responsibilities And Obligations Of APPLIED INFORMATICS

A. Software Development and Maintenance. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall ensure the ongoing development and maintenance of SOFTWARE, to keep SOFTWARE in commercial-quality shape and form. This includes providing timely fixes to reported issues, as well as implementing new features, as requested by SPONSOR or other users of SOFTWARE.

B. Staffing. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall recruit and employ as many software developers for as many hours as can be reasonably achieved using the funds received under this or similar agreements. So that development and support for SOFTWARE will not be interrupted by the disability or withdrawal of any one software developer, APPLIED INFORMATICS will, given sufficient funding, keep at least two knowledgeable and competent software developers on staff.

C. Direction and Oversight. APPLIED INFORMATICS staff shall coordinate the activities of all developers working on and contributing to SOFTWARE and shall publish from time to time a roadmap of proposed future changes and enhancements to SOFTWARE. Furthermore, APPLIED INFORMATICS staff shall review all changes to the SOFTWARE source code and take responsibility for the quality and correctness of those changes.

D. Code Quality. APPLIED INFORMATICS staff shall at all times keep the SOFTWARE source code well commented and documented and clearly structured and organized, in accordance with the Style Guide published on the PROJECT website, so that an experienced and competent programmer can understand it and support it after no more than a few months of study.

E. Backwards Compatibility. APPLIED INFORMATICS recognizes that SOFTWARE is used in mission-critical applications and therefore shall work diligently to ensure continuing bug-free correct operation and backwards compatibility with prior releases.

F. Test Coverage. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall maintain test suites for SOFTWARE such that sufficient source code coverage is provided.

G. Website. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall maintain the PROJECT website at <http://pocoproject.org/> in good working order and all SOFTWARE source code shall be made freely available at such website.

H. Source Code Repositories. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall maintain copies of all SOFTWARE source files and documentation, current and historical, at two separate locations, such that one repository is located in Europe, and the other repository is located in the United States of America.

I. Mentorship. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall work to encourage independent programmers from around the world to become familiar with SOFTWARE internals so that there will be a pool of talent able to support SOFTWARE in the future.

J. SOFTWARE Licensing. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall make the SOFTWARE available under the terms and condition of the Boost Software License 1.0.

K. Support. APPLIED INFORMATICS will provide technical assistance and support to software developers of SPONSOR under the terms and conditions set forth in Section 2 of this AGREEMENT.

L. Use Of Funds. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall use the funds provided hereunder solely for the development and maintenance of SOFTWARE as set forth in this AGREEMENT. Interest on funds received in advance and held in trust will be reinvested and used for the same purposes as the principal.

M. Audits. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall keep and maintain complete and accurate records of the use of development funds provided by SPONSOR and shall allow SPONSOR, or its representative, a certified public accountant mutually acceptable to APPLIED INFORMATICS and SPONSOR, during office hours and at reasonable intervals, no more than once every 12 months, to inspect and make extracts or copies of such records solely for the purpose of ascertaining APPLIED INFORMATICS' compliance with the objectives and requirements of this AGREEMENT.

1.2 Responsibilities And Obligations Of SPONSOR

A. Funding. SPONSOR shall provide funding for the ongoing development, support and maintenance of SOFTWARE as set forth in Attachment D.

B. Copyright. SPONSOR acknowledges that SOFTWARE source code and documentation published on the PROJECT website is copyright by APPLIED INFORMATICS and individual contributors and that nothing in this AGREEMENT shall change that fact.

1.3 Benefits Of SPONSOR

A. Sponsor Acknowledgement. SPONSOR will be recognized at the PROJECT website with a logo and/or a brief acknowledgement of their contribution to the project.

B. Technical Support. Software developers of SPONSOR receive support from APPLIED INFORMATICS under the terms and conditions set forth in Section 2 of this AGREEMENT.

2 Support Agreement

2.1 Scope Of Support Services

A. Technical assistance and support services provided by APPLIED INFORMATICS under this AGREEMENT include:

- software maintenance releases and updates,
- feature-usage assistance and operational advice, and
- troubleshooting and problem diagnosis.

B. A contact person at CLIENT, whose name will be specified at contract initiation but can be changed by written correspondence including e-mail or fax, will open a support case by phone call, sending an e-mail or through the contact form on the APPLIED INFORMATICS website. Upon closing a support case APPLIED INFORMATICS will provide feedback via e-mail to the contact person. If the contact person does not respond within 5 business days, the support case is closed.

C. The technical contact persons at APPLIED INFORMATICS are available between 9.00 and 16.00 CET (Central European Time or Daylight Saving Time, whichever applies) on business days, except public holidays in Austria.

2.2 Contact Persons

A. APPLIED INFORMATICS will provide one (1) technical contact person for supporting software developers of CLIENT with the SOFTWARE. This contact person will support up to the agreed upon number of named contact persons at CLIENT. APPLIED INFORMATICS is entitled to change the contact person at any time, at its discretion.

2.3 Support Terms and Conditions

A. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall apply the guidelines mentioned in Attachment B to support issues, which have been reported to APPLIED INFORMATICS accordingly, and shall apply the features mentioned in Attachment C according to the sponsorship level purchased by CLIENT.

B. The guidelines have only directing character. The included services are performed at the discretion of APPLIED INFORMATICS. On execution the technical circumstances and consequences of the particular case are normative.

C. The guidelines are based on the assumption that the issue can be reproduced at APPLIED INFORMATICS. If APPLIED INFORMATICS is unable to reproduce the issue, the service guidelines unfold limited effect. Occasionally the issue occurs only on a specific platform or in combination with software, which APPLIED INFORMATICS does not have at its disposal. This can cause non-reproducibility of the issue and can delay the service operations.

D. The guidelines are only applicable to released software of APPLIED INFORMATICS, but not to alpha, beta or preview releases.

E. To enable the investigation of the problem, the CLIENT is obliged to send a short but comprehensive test program or extract, which makes the respective issue clear for APPLIED INFORMATICS. The test program or extract shall not be longer than 500 lines of code. The CLIENT will undertake appropriate efforts to reduce the problem to its essence. APPLIED INFORMATICS will give the CLIENT a comprehensive problem description so that the CLIENT can initiate its own tests.

F. CLIENT will not disclose to APPLIED INFORMATICS any information, including information incorporated in CLIENT's software, that is confidential to CLIENT or any third party. Any notice, legend, or label to the contrary contained in any materials provided by CLIENT to APPLIED INFORMATICS shall be without effect. APPLIED INFORMATICS shall be free to use all information it receives in any manner it deems appropriate.

G. Under this AGREEMENT APPLIED INFORMATICS does not provide technical assistance and services to customers of CLIENT.

The parties therefore agree that in addition to any other remedies available hereunder, by law or otherwise, APPLIED INFORMATICS and any third party from whom APPLIED INFORMATICS has licensed software or technology may be
